

Country Briefs

MOROCCO

How child-friendly is the Government of Morocco?

The African Report on Child Wellbeing provides an insight into the wellbeing of children in Africa and assesses the extent to which governments meet their obligations, through a ground-breaking Child-friendliness Index – developed by The African Child Policy Forum (ACPF).

The Government of Morocco was found to be one of the most child-friendly governments in Africa

The Government of Morocco emerged in the top ten most child-friendly governments of Africa. This was mainly for three reasons: first, as a result of the Government of Morocco putting in place appropriate legal provisions to protect children against abuse and exploitation; secondly, because of its commitment in allocating a relatively higher share of the national budget to provide for the basic needs of children; and thirdly, as a result of the effort and success in achieving relatively favourable wellbeing outcomes as reflected on children themselves.

How well does the Government of Morocco perform in protecting its children?

A number of indicators have been used to assess governments' performance in protecting children against abuse and exploitation (see report for the detail).

The ranking puts the Government of Morocco 4th in respect of legal protection of children, indicating that it has performed well in laying appropriate legal and policy foundations for the protection of children. Morocco has ratified most of the relevant child rights treaties (see Table 1).

Morocco ranked 4th for its effort to put in place an appropriate legal and policy framework for children.

The Government of Morocco also performed well in respect of other indicators relating to policy for free primary education, national laws, juvenile justice system, national plan of action for survival, protection and development of children and a government body for coordinating the national strategy for children. Corporal punishment is prohibited in the penal system but not in the home or schools (See Table 2). NB: ACRWC not applicable to Morocco

Table 1 List of child rights treaties by status of ratification, Morocco

Ratified	Did not ratify
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child (UNCRC) 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> International Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Optional Protocol to the Convention on the Rights of the Child on the Involvement of Children in Armed Conflict
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Optional Protocol to the Convention on the Rights of the Child on the Sale of Children, Child Prostitution and Pornography
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ILO Convention on Minimum Age for Admission to Employment (ILO Convention No. 138) 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The Hague Convention on Intercountry Adoption
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ILO Convention on the Worst Forms of Child Labour Convention (ILO Convention No. 182)

How does the Government of Morocco perform in providing for children?

Provision for basic needs of children is measured based on two elements: budgetary commitment and child-related outcomes achieved. All the indicators used for budgetary commitment and child-related outcomes were combined to yield governments' performance score for provision of basic services for children (see Figure 1).

Morocco ranked 12th in the combined index for provision of basic services for children

The other set of indicators refer to the outcomes achieved for children. They measure governments' performances in terms of objective results achieved in services accessed and results reflected on children themselves. Table 3, below, summarises the indicators and the data used for this particular sub-dimension for Morocco.

Table 2 Performance in other legal and policy related indicators, Morocco

Indicators	Status
Prohibition of corporal punishment in: Homes	Not prohibited
Schools	Not prohibited
As sentence for crime	Prohibited
As disciplinary measure	Prohibited
Policy for free primary education	Free
Existence of juvenile justice system/ child-friendly courts	Exists
Existence of national plan of action for survival, protection and development of children	Exists
Existence of a government body that coordinates national strategy for children	Exists

Figure 1 Budgetary expenditure on selected sectors, Morocco

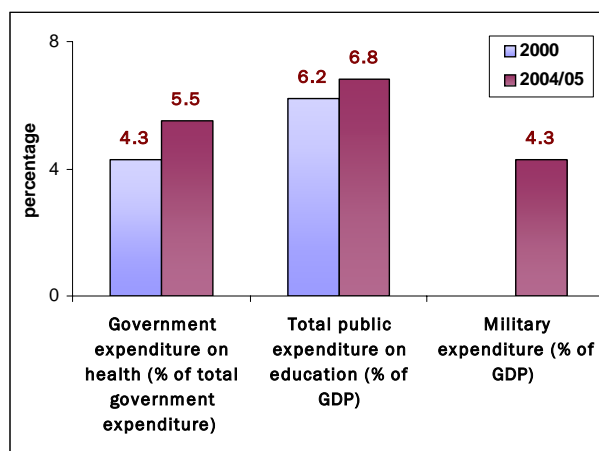

Table 3 Data on child-related outcome indicators, Morocco

Indicator	Year	Number/ Percentage
Child population	2006	11.1 million
Health
Infant mortality rate	2005	36
Immunisation against measles	2005	97
Percentage of children underweight	*	10
Percentage of under-fives with suspected pneumonia taken to health provider	*	38
Percentage of the population using improved drinking water source	2004	81
Percentage of the population using adequate sanitation facilities	2004	73
Number of physicians per 100,000 people	*	51
Education
Net Enrolment Ratio: Male (Primary)	2004	89
Net Enrolment Ratio: Female (Primary)	2004	84
Gross Enrolment Ratio: Male (Primary)	2004	111
Gross Enrolment Ratio: Female (Primary)	2004	100
Gross Enrolment Ratio: Male (Secondary)	2004	51
Gross Enrolment Ratio: Female (Secondary)	2004	43
Pupil-teacher ratio (Primary)	2004	28

* the data refers to the most recent available between 2000 and 2006

Table 4: Child-friendliness Index ranking of African governments

Country	Ranking	Category
Mauritius	1	Most child-friendly
Namibia	2
Tunisia	3
Libya	4
Morocco	5
Kenya	6
South Africa	7
Malawi	8
Algeria	9
Cape Verde	10
Rwanda	11	Child-friendly
Burkina Faso	12
Madagascar	13
Botswana	14
Senegal	15
Seychelles	16
Egypt	17
Mali	18
Lesotho	19
Burundi	20
Uganda	21	Fairly child-friendly
Nigeria	22
United Republic of Tanzania	23
Gabon	24
Mozambique	25
Togo	26
Zambia	27
Mauritania	28
Ghana	29
Djibouti	30
Dem. Rep. Congo	31
Niger	32
Cameroon	33	Less child-friendly
Congo	34
Angola	35
Côte d'Ivoire	36
Zimbabwe	37
Equatorial Guinea	38
Sudan	39
Sierra Leone	40
Benin	41
Ethiopia	42
Comoros	43	Least child-friendly
Guinea	44
Swaziland	45
Chad	46
Liberia	47
Sao Tome and Principe	48
Gambia	49
Central African Republic	50
Eritrea	51
Guinea-Bissau	52

For references and data sources see the main report: The African Report on Child Wellbeing 2008: *How child-friendly are African governments?

